

CAUSE FOR FRICTION.

Objection to Canteen Provision of New Army Bill.

IT HAS THE RIGHT OF WAY IN HOUSE

It is Expected That a Vote On the Military Measure Will Be Reached Before Close of the Week. Other Washington News.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The canteen provision in the new army bill is likely to cause a great deal of contention. Instead of being a prohibition of the sale of liquor, it provides that no army officer or soldier shall sell liquor. The provision is as follows:

"That no officer or private soldier shall sell intoxicating drinks of any kind as a bartender or otherwise in any army post, or on any army transport, or in any encampment or fort, or on any premises used for military purposes by the United States, and the secretary of war is hereby directed to issue such general order as may be necessary to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect."

The canteen provision of the present law is as follows:

"That no officer or private soldier shall be detailed to sell intoxicating drinks, as a bartender or otherwise, in any post exchange or canteen, nor shall any other person be required or allowed to sell such liquors in any encampment or fort, or on any premises used for military purposes by the United States; and the secretary of war is hereby directed to issue such general order as may be necessary to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect."

Chairman Hull of the house committee on military affairs said that the program for considering the army reorganization bill as now outlined contemplated a special rule, which would take up the bill at once. But as the legislative appropriation bill was ready, the right of way would be conceded to that measure. The army bill will then follow. Under the proposed special rule no precise time will be fixed for taking the final vote, as this may be reached by arrangement; otherwise the previous question will be resorted to for the purpose of securing a vote before the close of the week if possible.

It was arranged that general debate should run for four hours, two hours on a side, and that then the bill should be considered under the 5-minute rule. Mr. Hull opened the debate.

Mr. Cochran (Mo.) declared that no army that marched on the face of the earth could accomplish the subjugation of the Philippines. Mr. Kleberg (Tex.) and Mr. McClelland (N. Y.) opposed the bill.

Hay-Panamafe Treaty.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The Hay-Panamafe treaty concerning the Nicaraguan canal was the subject of a few minutes' consideration by the senate committee on foreign relations. The treaty has already been reported by the committee, and it was therefore only taken up in an informal way and for discussion only. No conclusion was possible, except to decide to press the question in the senate, and there was substantial agreement upon the wisdom of this policy. There is no division in the committee except on amendments, although Senator Bacon did not manifest any great concern for the passage of the treaty in any shape. No vote on any subject in connection with the treaty was possible in the committee, but the discussion revealed the fact that the committee is evenly divided upon the question of the amendment of the document in accordance with the provision reported during the last session of congress, providing for the fortification of the proposed canal.

Temperance For Africa.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The senate committee on foreign relations granted a hearing to the representatives of several temperance and reform associations in support of the treaty providing for the control of the liquor traffic in Africa. Among those present were Bishop Hartsell, bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church for Africa; Mrs. Stevens, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and also representatives of the Anti-Saloon league, the National Temperance society, and a committee of the Presbyterian church. Bishop Hartsell made the principal address. Members of the committee assured the bishop of their endorsement of the principle involved, and informed him that the failure of the senate to consider it had been entirely due to the pressure of other business. The committee voted to report a resolution for the ratification of the treaty without amendment.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

Minister Conger Authorized to Sign For the United States.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The state department has been informed that the foreign ministers at Peking reached an agreement which was submitted to the home offices. Secretary Hay cabled Mr. Conger authorization to sign the agreement on behalf of the United States government. It is known that in the two important issues that were still open, namely those relating to punishment and indemnity, the views of the United States government have prevailed. As to punishments, they are to be the severest that can be inflicted by the Chinese government. As to indemnity, the Chinese government is to formally admit its liability and then the matter is to be left for future negotiation.

PREMIER PIERSON

Cannot See His Way Clear to Propose Arbitration.

The Hague, Dec. 5.—During the debate on the budget in the second chamber here, the premier, Dr. Pierson, declared he could not at present foresee the moment when the Netherlands would be able to propose arbitration between Great Britain and the Transvaal.

The preliminary details have all been arranged by the executive council. The credentials committee has passed upon the credentials of 210 delegates, all of whom will be admitted. Delegates are coming in slowly, but all are expected to be in their seats when the convention is called to order. Among the leaders who have already arrived are W. H. Haskins, president of the Ohio State Miners' association; Patrick Nolan, president of the Pittsburgh District Miners' association, and Miss Sara Groshans of Streator, Ill., member of the executive board of the United Garment Workers of America. Miss Groshans is the only woman delegate here at present.

Temperance in Manila

Manila, Dec. 5.—The hall occupied by the United States commission was crowded, the occasion being the public discussion of the Manila liquor license bill. The section providing for banishing saloons from the Escolta and down town plazas was strongly criticised. Judge Taft explained that the United States courts had settled the right of the police and the power to limit the sale of liquors, and yet the places where they were sold were unlimited. He declared that the condition of the Escolta, owing to the presence of saloons, was disgraceful. The judge admitted that it was a hardship to some, but he denied that injustice was being done.

THE DEATHBED STORY

OF Mrs. Olin Castle Is Admitted As Evidence.

DEFENDANT WEEPS FOR FIRST TIME

Judge Redden Charged That the Dying Declaration Was a Concealment of Men Who Sought to Convict an Innocent Girl.

Elk-rado, Kan., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Olin Castle's deathbed statement against Jessie Morrison of being her murderer was admitted as evidence in the trial of Jessie Morrison.

The statement, which declares that Miss Morrison provoked the quarrel and then began an attack that cost Mrs. Castle her life, is considered the strongest evidence presented by the state. The point of its admission had been argued for a day, and during that time the jury had been excused.

Jessie Morrison gave way to her feelings in the court room and wept for the first time since her trial began. It occurred during the final argument of Judge Redden, one of the prisoner's attorneys, against the admission of the statement.

Judge Redden said that Captain Waters, for the state, had depicted the horror of the wounding of the bride, had painted the scene of sorrow at the deathbed, "and now," said the attorney, "I understand the purpose of this thing. It was an attack upon the defendant to intimidate and cow her, and if possible to break her down, and then point to it when her case goes before the jury as evidence of her guilt, or if she could brace herself against it and by her will power not break down, they would point to that as evidence of a guilty conscience."

While Judge Redden talked, Miss Morrison hid her eyes in her handkerchief and wept. She has steadfastly maintained complete control of herself as she sat through the tedious examination of the state's witnesses, and this was the first show of a break-down.

Judge Redden continued at length. He charged that the dying declaration made by Mrs. Castle was a concoction of men, who sought to convict an innocent girl. She was a frail girl, against whom vindictive men had conspired. All the evidence on which the attorneys for the state depended for conviction, he declared, was circumstantial, excepting the dying statement of Clara Castle.

No One Found by Lind.

St. Paul, Dec. 5.—So far as any appointment is concerned there was nothing new in the senatorial situation. Governor Lind has not yet succeeded in finding a Republican to whom he could present the position—in fact, it was asserted positively by one of his closest advisers that the appointment had not yet been positively offered to any body. Several men have been sounded as to what they would do if it were offered, but thus far, it is asserted, no formal tender of the place has been made. The settlement of the contest over the offices of the house has removed one distracting subject from the minds of the legislators, and they are now devoting themselves with much interest to the contest for senatorship. There seems now no reason to anticipate any serious trouble for Senator Nelson in securing a re-election. It has been suggested that in the event of a lively contest for the short term to succeed the late Senator Davis so much of a fight might develop that Senator Nelson would suffer. Present indications do not carry out any such suggestion.

Damage to Shipping.

Boston, Dec. 5.—Dispatches from various points on the New England coast show that the storm did considerable damage to local shipping and to piers and seawalls. Except in the case of the schooner Mary A. Brown, wrecked off Portsmouth, N. H., no loss of life has been reported. An unknown schooner of about 100 tons is ashore near the Atlantic House, Scarborough, Me. The seas are washing over the schooner and she will probably go to pieces. Nothing is known of the fate of the crew.

DANIEL'S PROVISION.

The Negro Disfranchisement Question In a New Form.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 5.—Much interest is shown in the negro disfranchisement question in this state, which is to come before the constitutional convention. Senator John W. Daniel is drafting a provision, which it is believed will stand a better prospect of successfully running the gauntlet of the court of last resort than the "Grandfathers" clause of Louisiana and North Carolina. Senator Daniel's proposition is to exempt from the illiteracy clause all persons from Virginia who served in any war. This would let in all illiterate ex-Confederates and Federal soldiers, white and black. The number of the two last named classes will be insignificant. The plan is based upon laws enacted by a western state during the civil war, under which all persons who volunteered in the Federal army were to be given the right of suffrage.

In Industrial Convention.

New Orleans, Dec. 5.—The second day's session of the Southern Industrial convention opened with a very large attendance, many delegates having arrived on the early morning trains. The hall was scarcely large enough to admit the delegates, and the general public was turned away. The first business on the program was the report of the committee on organization, but the committee was unable to report. Cardinal Gibbons, escorted by a delegation of prominent citizens, cleric and lay, entered the hall, and was given a most cordial greeting. His eminence, dressed in the red robes of his high office, opened the convention with prayer. He said he hoped that the dawning century would not close until the prophecy of Isaiah had been fulfilled, when swords would be beaten into plowshares and sickles.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The president will send to the senate the nomination of George Von I. Myer of Boston to be ambassador to Italy. Mr. Myer is a prosperous business man of Boston, a man of family and about 45 years of age. He is a graduate of Harvard, and was a member of the bar. He has been a prominent figure in political life, having been a member of the Republican state central committee, a member of the state legislature and finally speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives. He is a man of large private fortune, so that he will be able to maintain fittingly the high social status of the American embassy at Rome.

To Purchase Cramps

New York, Dec. 5.—According to a report that reached Wall street, Vickers' Sons and Maxim, limited, of England, have instituted negotiations for the purchase of the Midvale steel works and the Cramps Shipbuilding company of Philadelphia. It is believed to be the purpose of the English company to secure a share of United States government contracts for warships, armor plate and ordnance. The report has it that $7,500,000 has already been offered for the Midvale company, and that the Cramp purchase will probably be partly effected by issuing stock of the new corporation to be formed when the deal has been completed. It is said that final arrangements for the deal has been completed. It is said that final arrangements for the deal are to be attempted next week in this city, when Charles H. Cramp will come here to meet a New York banker, who will represent the English company.

Chairman Payne has called a meeting of the full ways and means committee to consider the bill.

FOURTH CLASS CITIES.

Bourbon Circuit Court To Decide a Question of Vital Importance in Regard to the Charter.

[Paris Gazette.]

A question of vital importance to the citizens of Paris is now pending before the Bourbon Circuit Court.

The Kentucky Distilling Company, which is better known as the whisky trust, is attempting to have that part of its property known as the Samuel Clay, or Walsh, distillery stricken out of the city limit by an act of the Council.

About thirty days ago the trust under a mandamus proceeding, gave notice to the members of the Council that it would, on the first day of present term, move the Court for an order compelling the Council to pass an ordinance establishing the city limits and omitting therefrom the property above mentioned, which the petition describes by metes and bounds.

The whisky trust claims that under the present charter for cities of the fourth class, in which Paris belongs, all a person or number of persons has to do to get stricken out of or taken into a city is to have twenty-five names of people residing in the city and tax-payers to sign a petition requesting the Council so to do; that after this petition is filed the Council has no other alternative but to pass the ordinance. Last July the whisky trust came before the Council with a petition signed by about forty tax-payers and all the residents of the district in question.

There are only four people residing in the district, and they are the Jordan brothers, all of whom are employees at the distillery. In addition to this they had the names of their manager, Mr. Cottingham, and some thirty others more or less interested in the distilling business. The City Council positively refused to pass any such ordinance, of course, not being willing to strike out property that brings in hundreds of dollars per annum in taxes. Upon the failure of the Council to comply with the wishes of the trust it immediately proceeded under a mandamus to compel passage of the ordinance.

The trust claims that the Council has no discretionary powers. It relies upon this provision of the charter:

"The Board of Council of such city shall, by ordinance, accurately define the boundary of the territory proposed to be annexed or stricken off, either upon their own motion, or, if requested to do so by written petition of at least twenty-five voters and tax-payers of the city, or residing within the proposed boundary to be added, or stricken therefrom shall pass the ordinance in conformity with the request of such tax-payers."

Mr. Charles Stoll, as attorney for the trust, held that the word "shall" made it very clear that Council could do nothing else but comply with the wish of the petitioners, and that the twenty-five voters and resident tax-payers did not have to reside within the proposed boundary to be added or stricken out, but that those residing anywhere in the city could petition and have any section stricken out. In other words, if one of the banks in this city that owns its own property wished to be stricken from the city limits, it could get twenty-five tax-payers (maybe their own stockholders) to petition the Council and the Council would have no other alternative than to strike it out, and though the bank still remained in the heart of the city and enjoyed all the patronage, protection and facilities afforded every other bank, it could not be made liable by way of taxation for the protection it received.

If the whisky trust is successful in having the Walsh distillery declared out of the city limits, its next step will be to have the White property stricken from the city limits.

Colonel W. W. Baldwin narrowly escaped what might have proved a very serious accident Wednesday afternoon. While driving along the Lexington pike, just south of West Third street, his horses became frightened and started to run, going partly over an embankment. Managers Russell, Dye and Frank announce the engagement of Mr. John Griffith at the Washington Opera House on Monday, Dec. 10th. They have selected "Spartacus" as the play, and of course it goes without saying that the engagement of Mr. Griffith would mean a crowded house under any and all circumstances, but Mr. Griffith as "Spartacus" means the greatest tragic event we can hope to look forward to in local theatricals this season. Those who have seen Forrest and McCullough in this great role will want to see Griffith, and to those who have never seen "Spartacus," the admonition is, "do not miss it." "Spartacus" is one of the grandest, most absorbing, soul-stirring and intensely heroic tragedies in dramatic literature.

GIBSON IN JAIL.

The Catlettsburg Child Murderer
Brought Here For Safe Keeping.

Captured Wednesday Morning at Old Iron
Furnace in Carter County—Says
All He Wants is "Justice."

William Gibson, the Catlettsburg child murderer, was brought here this morning and placed in jail for safe keeping.

The prisoner was brought down by Deputy Sheriff W. L. Geiger, Jr., who arrived with his man on the 8:10 train over the C. and O.

Gibson was captured Wednesday morning near Old Iron Furnace in Carter County, by Charles Davis and a Mr. Griffith, of Catlettsburg. Davis and Griffith knew him well, and believing he had led to the hills of Carter after he committed the fiendish crime, they started on a search for him. Wednesday morning they ran across him in the public highway. Gibson was not armed, and they had but little difficulty in making the arrest.

Davis and Griffith communicated with the authorities of Boyd County, and County Judge Laban Everett, in the absence of the Circuit Judge, and knowing the bringing of the prisoner into Catlettsburg meant that he would be lynched by the indignant citizens, ordered Deputy Sheriff Geiger to bring Gibson to Maysville.

Mr. Geiger and Jailer J. Heard, of Boyd, met Davis and Griffith at a point outside of Catlettsburg and taking Gibson in the carriage with them they drove down to Riverton Junction with the intention of boarding C. and O. No. 1 this morning. Reaching there, however, they learned the train did not stop at Riverton, and then they had to drive back to Russell. After Deputy Sheriff Geiger was safely aboard the train with Gibson, Jailer Heard returned to Catlettsburg.

The crime for which Gibson must answer was one of the most fiendish ever committed. He is accused of torturing his two-year-old step daughter to death by burning her with a red-hot poker.

The torture was kept up for weeks and was only accidentally discovered the night before the child's death. One of his neighbors made the terrible discovery by noticing the child's body was covered with sores. Thinking the child might be suffering with smallpox he notified the Health officer, who called at the house and almost caught Gibson in the act of his fiendish torture. Gibson fled, and set fire to a neighbor's house in order to attract the attention of the people and enable him to escape. That was nearly two weeks ago, and he succeeded in eluding the officers until Wednesday morning.

The greatest indignation was aroused at Catlettsburg when his fiendish crime became known and the enraged populace have openly stated they would torture him to death if they got hold of him.

A representative of the BULLETIN called at the jail shortly after Gibson had been given his breakfast. He had stowed away about twenty biscuits and was asleep. He was in a sullen mood when aroused and would talk but little.
He said all he wanted was "a fair trial and justice,"—that he did not fear the result.

Gibson says he was raised in Floyd County. He married his wife at Ironton and they had been living at Catlettsburg only a few months.

More so than ever before is the enormous stock of goods I carry, but you can only get full conception of the magnitude by coming and seeing for yourself, which all are specially invited to do. Being encouraged by my largely increased business of the last year my purchases for the season now at hand have been enormously heavy in order to meet the rapidly growing demands of my trade, which is not now confined to retailing exclusively, but I have a large and steadily growing

WHOLESALE TRADE,

Which has to be supplied with the better class of goods, that are not to be found in many of the jobbing houses, I was early in the market, which enabled me to make my purchases—exclusively for cash—before the advance in prices of many of the leading articles. Therefore, I am prepared to successfully meet any and all competition. I handle nothing but the best goods, all of which I buy directly from the producers in large quantities at prices as low as any jobbing house in the state. I am always in position to sell the very best goods at prices as low, or even lower, than you pay for common, stale and trashy stuff at other places. Besides I carry in stock many articles that can't be found in any other store in our city. Special attention is called to my very large and superior stock of

New Crop Plantation Molasses, Pure Lewis County Sorghum,

Green and roasted Coffees, Sugars and fine Teas, immense stock of canned goods of all kinds, pure Maple Syrup and sugar, the finest brands of Hams, Breakfast Bacon and Leaf Lard, put up specially for my trade. Pure Buckwheat Flour, Bannock Flour, Whole Wheat Flour, Graham Flour, Cereals of all kinds, Poultry, Game, Oysters, Cranberries, Apples, Oranges, Lemons, Bananas, Figs, Dates, Raisins, Citron, Lemon and Orange Peel, Olives, finest Cream Cheese, Swiss Cheese, Pine Apple Cheese, Minute Meat, Preserves, Catsup, fine Pickles—sour and sweet—in fact everything to eat of the very best. In addition, and specially for the holiday trade, I have laid in an immense supply of which will be sold at net cost to my customers as a Christmas treat. And don't forget the Perfection Flour is the best and that my fine blended coffee has no equal.

Candies, Nuts, Fireworks,

People from the country are invited to make my house headquarters when in our city. I run two delivery wagons regularly and all goods will be delivered to any part of city promptly. Come if you can, but if you can't come call up PHONE 33.

FRUSTRATED

Was a Daring and Well-Planned Scheme of Desperate Prisoners to Escape From Jail.

A desperate scheme of four prisoners to escape from jail was frustrated Tuesday night.

Harry Harvey, Zeke Smith, "Bosey" Johnson and Henry Edwards were the prisoners who were in the scheme, and had not one of their fellow prisoners warned the turnkey, Mr. Slack, the chances are that some or all of the gang would have escaped.

Their plan was to kill Slack when he came in about 9 o'clock to lock the cells and turn out the gas. One was then to put on Slack's coat and hat and take his pistol and the four were to descend to the entrance, turn out the gas, give the call usually given by Slack, and then when the door was opened all were to make a dash for liberty.

When Slack entered the jail, Wm. Thacker, who is wanted in Fleming for killing Young Gordon, told Slack of the scheme, and thus no doubt saved his life. Harvey, Johnson and Smith were all given sentences in the pen at the present term of court.

THE OLD MASON'S HOME

May Be Located in Shelby County—Location Committee Visits Shelbyville.

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Dec. 4.—There are strong indications that the Old Mason's Home in Kentucky is to be located in Shelby County.

The State Committee on Selection of a Location, composed of Howard R. French, Mt. Sterling, Chairman; James W. Staten, Brooksville, Past Grand Master; John Ramey and Judge E. B. Beard, of Shelbyville, was here to-day in charge of a local committee, composed of Judge W. H. Tipton, Judge William Harrison and Mayor L. C. Willis.

They have been offered the choice of a number of handsome farms around and near Shelbyville, and are evidently pleased with the chance to get exactly what is wanted.

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. With her whole being undergoing a change, the seeds of female troubles are sown. Little menstrual disorders, if neglected at the time, will follow the woman all her life and grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are robbing homes and filling graveyards, proves this. Yet, irregular and painful menstruation are often permitted to go on, sapping the life and energy, while Wine of Cardui, the positive relief for these ills, is on the shelf of every drug store. Wine of Cardui helps the maiden sustain the shock of puberty by inducing a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Wine of Cardui is an emmenagogue of great power, and works wonders in strengthening the delicate and sensitive female organs. Many young women owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. No woman should give up hope until she has given Wine of Cardui a trial. If thousands have secured relief through it, why not you?

WINE OF CARDUI

Tully, Kas., Feb. 24, 1899.

I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything; in fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui with Black-Draught when needed and to-day am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me.
